GARY GROUCUTT

Gary Groucutt is a landscape photographer and painter, he searches for the changing light and drama of nature. He follows in the footsteps of his early painting heroes, Turner, Constable and Thomas Girtin. Primarily self-taught he has been taking photographs from as early as he can remember, converting the kitchen into a dark room before he was 10 years old. His photographs and paintings are held in private collections from Australia to America. He is also a great believer in passing on knowledge, he teaches landscape photography through his workshops.
