ANNE MASON

I am a Fine Artist based in Teesdale, in the North Pennines. England. I have a BTec HND in Natural History Illustration (Sunderland Poly 1988), a Certificate in Education and an MA in Fine Art and Education (Northumbria 2008).

My interest in visual art has always been eclectic and my personal journey has taken me from realism to abstraction then back to realism

As a child I drew natural history subjects obsessively and I still make detailed watercolour illustrations of landscapes, animals and birds to reproduce as greetings cards and giclee prints.

Recently I have been exploring printmaking, mainly in black and white, woodcuts and engravings.

I also enjoy painting northern landscapes in oil/acrylic, in the past these works were quite detailed and technical, similar to the watercolour illustrations, but lately they have become more expressive, which is mainly due to the influence of Cumbrian painter Sheila Fell
